

POSTAGE CHARGES

Prices correct as at 1 July 2009

Unless you instruct us otherwise, we will choose the most efficient option, so if this all seems too complicated, don't worry. We use Australia Post exclusively because of their superior service, particularly to remote locations and PO Box addresses.

Philatelists, please note: we never use stamps, as the various prepaid satchels are much better value. However, we can supply used stamps in your parcel – just ask.

International

If you live in New Zealand, allow $A8.70 for orders under 500g. Parcels over 500g up to 2kg cost $A4.05 plus $A3.35 per 250g. Above 2kg it's $A16 plus $A3.50 per 500g up to 20kg.

Elsewhere overseas: more expensive than New Zealand; ask for details.

Within Australia

If your order weighs less than 500g, estimate $2.50 Australia-wide. Actual cost may be slightly more or less depending on the physical size of the items. Fragile items such as CDs and cassettes, and bulky items such as multi-sided dice, need careful packaging and will cost $6.40 to post.

If your order weighs between 500g and 3kg: Cheapest is usually Parcel Post Satchel (PPS): $9.90 for up to 3kg. Within Victoria standard parcels (see below) may be cheaper.

Fastest is Express Post: $11.30 for up to 3kg.

NB: If your order can be divided into portions of 500g or 3kg, postage costs can often be reduced.

Parcel Charges:

To calculate the cost of your parcel over 500g, use either the guide set out here or the Parcel Charge Calculator on our web site.

A. If you live in Melbourne your parcel will cost $8.45 whatever the weight (up to the 20kg limit).

B. If you live elsewhere in Victoria (V2), allow $8.45 plus 55c per kilogram – eg up to 1kg=$9.00; up to 2kg=$9.55, etc.

C. For Interstate parcels, estimate $10.40 per parcel plus the per kilogram charge for your postal zone (see the table below). First find your Postal Zone, then read the cost for your parcel from the bottom table.

Insurance is available for parcels only, at a cost of $2.60 per parcel plus $1.25 per $100 of value or part thereof.

Other Australia Post services are available if you require them.
